After I started my 40-year faculty career at the University of Michigan, in the early 1970's, Uncle Walter visited researchers at the University of Michigan, including managing a project at the Willow Run Laboratories that was the site for highly confidential research. During his visit, we had some serious career decisions discussions. Though I liked circuits and electronics, many top electrical engineers thought those fields were past their hey-day. I clearly remember Uncle Walter telling me to stick to the areas that I liked, and that my work would find more than enough rich areas to study and to make contributions. Again, he was correct. I was part of the pioneering field of numerical mathematical computer modeling of circuits and semiconductor electronic devices.

Next, Uncle Walter impacted three generations in the McAfee (and Lester) family.

He impacted the first generation—the nieces and nephews of Uncle Walter—which included me, my siblings, McAfee first cousins, and the Lester first cousins.

He impacted the second generation—the grand-nieces and grand-nephews of Uncle Walter. Each of my three children did a report on Uncle Walter several years in elementary, middle, and high school. Children of my siblings did reports on Uncle Walter. And children of first cousins did reports on Uncle Walter, even children of first cousins on my mother's side (Lester) did reports.

He impacted the third generation—the great-grand-nieces and great-grand-nephews of Uncle Walter. Children of grand-nieces & grand-nephews are still doing reports on Uncle Walter.

Uncle Walter had major notoriety regarding the moon with his contributions in Project Diana. Just last month, NASA, the USA, and the world celebrated the 50th anniversary of first landing on the moon by humans, partially made possible by the work of Uncle Walter in Project Diana.

In closing, a bit of Big Ten conference razzing, hopefully humor for sports fans.

As a family, my children and I are dieheart University of Michigan alumni; we bleed U-M maize and blue. The one strike/complaint against Uncle Walter is his attending Ohio State University, U-M's arch Big Ten rival in all collegiate sports, especially football.

In baseball terminology, attending Ohio State was initially a called strike against Uncle Walter. However, Uncle Walter "hit a home-run out the park" with his spectacular technical and personal family successes.

Thank you.

IN RECOGNITION OF THE LIFE OF JAMES JOSEPH McCARTHY

HON. MIKE ROGERS

OF ALABAMA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES Monday, September 9, 2019

Mr. ROGERS of Alabama. Madam Speaker, I ask for the House's attention to recognize the life of James Joseph McCarthy.

Jim was born in Boston to Joseph and Anne McCarthy and sister, Louise (McCarthy) Faulstich. He was an allstar-football and basketball player in high school. He graduated from Suffolk University and served in the United States Army from January 1946 through June 1947.

Jim worked as a successful insurance executive and was best known for his 29 years on "The Sports Huddle." This weekly radio show was a raucous, call-in program with up to 20,000 callers on any given night.

One of many memorable antics was when he and his two partners, life-long friend, Mark Witkin and Eddie Andelman, placed a live call to Buckingham Palace to ask if the New England Patriots could exchange two of their guards for two of theirs. "The Sports Huddle" also publicly accused President Nixon of "first degree oversight" after he neglected to congratulate the Bruins for their Stanley Cup Victory. Thousands of listeners sent letters to the
